DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-9 have been examined and stand rejected.

Priority

2. Applicant is advised of possible benefits under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), wherein an application for patent filed in the United States may be entitled to the benefit of the filing date of a prior application filed in a foreign country. Though Applicant has claimed the priority, the priority documents have not been provided.

Specification

3. A substitute specification in proper idiomatic English and in compliance with 37 CFR 1.52(a) and (b) is required. The substitute specification filed must be accompanied by a statement that it contains no new matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors. At present the claims are extremely difficult to understand. The specification is also problematic in that it appears to be a literal translation and lacks clarity.

Art Unit: 2123

Allowable Subject Matter

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Claims 1-9, if redrafted to comport with proper English language would be allowable over the prior art of record. Specifically the steps including the data conversion for converting network configurations and distributing into respective computers, following a logic operations based upon contents, the first validation of integrity and the second validation of symmetry of the network in combination with simulation frame procedure and determining the validity of the frames and simulation of the network configuration with the simulation of nodes and links (as recited in claim 1 with claim 2) for multiple access networks, render the claims allowable over the prior art of record, as long as appropriate amendments are provided to clarify the language and overcome the 112 2nd rejections. Moreover the steps in dependent claims 4-9 if amended to include claim 2, would be allowable over the prior art since the prior art does not teach or render obvious these limitations, as well.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record, on the accompanying PTO 892, and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure..
